

Nantiya Ruan

NANTIYA RUAN is Senior Counsel at Outten & Golden LLP, where she primarily represents employees in class discrimination and wage and hour cases. She is also a Professor of Law at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, William S. Boyd School of Law.

Prior to joining O&G in 2000, Ruan was a judicial clerk for Magistrate Judge Ronald L. Ellis in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York. She has also clerked in the state appellate courts. From 2003 to 2004, Ruan was an associate at Goldstein, Demchak, Baller, Borgen & Dardarian in Oakland, California, a plaintiffs' firm representing workers in national civil rights litigations.

Ruan publishes books and articles on employment law and workplace rights. Her scholarship explores the intersection of workers rights, complex litigation, and poverty law. She also writes on experiential learning with clients and teaching public interest to law students.

*(Prior results do not guarantee a similar outcome.)